Landmark agreement takes Australian racing to UK and Ireland

Two Australian thoroughbred race meetings, commencing with this Saturday's AAMI Victoria Derby Day meeting from Flemington, will be beamed into and wagered on in the United Kingdom and Ireland every day following a major deal secured by Sky Channel.

The global expansion of Australian thoroughbred racing to a new audience will result in Australian racing being broadcast in up to 12 million homes across the UK and Ireland.

The service will be broadcast by Attheraces on both satellite and cable television in the UK and Ireland.

This Saturday's WSFM Raceday meeting from Rosehill will also be broadcast in addition to the AAMI Victoria Derby meeting from Flemington.

The pictures shown in homes in the UK and Ireland will be the same Sky Channel service that is currently being beamed into North America.

Underpinning the deal is the co-mingling of bets of approximately 80 per cent of UK and Irish operators into the existing North American pool on Australian racing, located at the Australian Racing Hub in Woodbine, Canada.

Most of the major UK wagering organisations such as Ladbrokes, William Hill, UK Tote and Coral Eurobet are expected to participate.

"It is anticipated that this deal will generate extra funding for the Australian racing industry," said Tabcorp's Managing Director of Racing and Media, Robert Nason.

"The Australian Racing Industry is recognised globally for its excellence in racing and the integrity of our product. We are delighted to be showcasing the best of our racing to a new audience in the UK and Ireland."

Victoria Racing Club Chief Executive Dale Monteith said: "AAMI Victoria Derby Day is Australia's premier race day and our Club is delighted that it will be showcased to a new audience in the UK and Ireland."

Tabcorp's initiative in bringing in UK racing on Sky Channel every Saturday night has assisted in paving the way for the reciprocating of rights.
